EQUALITY

Pride in our public services

Together we defend public and community services

Public and community services are being cut and privatised in the name of 'austerity'.

LGBT+ people and services are particularly at risk.

UNISON knows that putting public services in the hands of private companies puts profit before the needs of our community. UNISON speaks up for public services and the people who provide them.

Wherever you work providing a public service, join UNISON's 1.3 million members.
